

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my interest in the Senior Fullstack Engineer position at Famly, as advertised. With a strong background in front and backend development and a genuine passion for creating impactful solutions, I am excited about the opportunity to contribute to your team's mission of revolutionizing the childcare industry.

During my tenure at Four Africa, I spearheaded significant projects, including leading a server-side initiative that increased app traffic by 25% and enhanced Search Engine Optimization. My experience with Next.js, React.js, and Node.js, combined with my proficiency in designing and implementing scalable APIs, aligns well with the requirements of the role at Famly.

As an active contributor to the open-source community, I have honed my skills in collaboration, problem-solving, and continuous learning. I am adept at navigating complex technical challenges and delivering innovative solutions that drive business success.

Moreover, my educational background in Computer Science, complemented by certifications in technical support fundamentals and my hands-on experience with a diverse range of tools and frameworks, positions me as a well-rounded candidate capable of thriving in a dynamic and fast-paced environment.

What excites me most about Famly is the opportunity to work alongside talented individuals who are passionate about making a positive impact on children's lives. I am particularly drawn to the collaborative culture and the emphasis on personal and professional development, as evidenced by the clear career framework and coaching offered to employees.

As an applicant based in Nairobi, Kenya, I am excited about the opportunity to relocate to join the Famly team. While I am genuinely enthusiastic about the role and the mission of Famly, I understand that relocation involves significant considerations. I would like to discuss the possibility of relocation assistance, should my application progress further.

Relocating to Copenhagen would not only enable me to contribute effectively to Famly but also align with my personal and professional goals. I am fully committed to making a seamless transition and am willing to explore various options to facilitate the relocation process.

I am open to discussing relocation assistance, including but not limited to support with moving expenses, temporary housing arrangements, and guidance on navigating the transition. I believe that by working together, we can find a solution that meets both the needs of the company and enables me to make a successful transition to Copenhagen.

Thank you for considering my application, and I look forward to discussing this further during the interview process.

Sincerely,
Jefferson Gakuya
